

An Inside Look at Electronic Trading

Do you have questions about electronic trading and how it works? Are you curious about why so many people now prefer to trade electronically? This series is designed to answer those questions and give you a basic understanding of this increasingly popular trading venue.

ISSUE I I

How do I get connected to the CME Globex platform?

Connecting refers to getting plugged in to the electronic trading network. This is different from interfacing with the network, which refers to the trading screen you view and the types of functionality you have access to.

You have several choices for connecting:

- » Have CME take care of the connection
- » Handle the connection yourself
- » Connect via the Internet

To view a summary of ways to connect to CME Globex, go to www.cme.com/trading and click on Trading Applications. For pricing of each network option, please view Access Charges. To speak to someone about network access options, please contact CME Globex Services at 312.648.4777 or e-mail globexservices@cme.com.

Electronic CME Commodity Products

- » CME Live Cattle
- » CME Feeder Cattle
- » CME Lean Hogs
- » CME Class III Milk
- » CME Cash-Settled Butter
- » CME GSCI

To view the entire series of "An Inside Look at Electronic Trading", visit www.cme.com/electronictrading.